In 2015, my husband and I quit our jobs, sold our belongings, and bought a 1972 VW bus. We named her "Rosie" and set off on a journey to drive from Alaska to Argentina.

We had no idea what we were getting ourselves into. We had never driven a VW bus before, and we had never traveled to South America. But we were both up for the adventure, and we were excited to see what the world had to offer.

Our journey took us through some of the most beautiful and remote places on Earth. We drove through the Alaskan wilderness, the Canadian Rockies, the American Southwest, and the Atacama Desert. We met amazing people along the way, and we learned a lot about ourselves and each other.

Our journey wasn't always easy. We had our share of breakdowns, flat tires, and other misadventures. But we always managed to laugh through it all, and we always came out stronger on the other side.

In the end, our journey was more than just a road trip. It was a life-changing experience that taught us about the power of love, the importance of adventure, and the beauty of the world.

If you're looking for a book that will inspire you to live a more adventurous life, then I highly recommend Life and Love on a Short Drive Around Half the World.
